“Affordability 101: The Basics of College Financial Aid”

Independent educational consultant and former college admissions director Sandra M. Moore, M.A. will offer a free session on this very timely topic

Thursday, October 8 - 7 pm

Hyde Park Free Library*

Wednesday, October 21 - 7 pm

Julia L. Butterfield Memorial Library

Tuesday, October 27 – 7 pm

Pawling Free Library

During the one-hour session you will learn about:

- Basic financial aid terminology
- Types of assistance available to students and their families
- Required forms and timeframes for applying for need-based aid
- Other ways to reduce costs, including accelerated and combined-degrees and tuition-free programs

The founder and principal of Next Step College Counseling in Hyde Park, Sandra is a cum laude graduate of Mount Holyoke College and received a master’s degree from Teachers College, Columbia University. She is a member of the National Association for College Admission Counseling (NACAC) and the Council for Advancement and Support of Education (CASE) as well as an associate member of the Independent Educational Consultants Association (IECA). Most recently she attended the 65th annual NACAC conference, met and spoke with college admissions officers from across the country and attended a variety of informational seminars, including several offered by the U.S. Department of Education on issues of access and affordability.
